

Navajo Language for Beginners – NAV-1030 Class

04/12/2022

Navajo Language for Beginners – NAV-1030

This 3 Credits Class.

This class is for Native Americans and non-native Americans who do not speak Navajo.

Once a week on Monday from 4:30 to 7:00 pm.

Charlotta Lacy is of the Big Water clan, born into the Red House people clan. Her maternal grandfathers are the Black Streak Wood people, and her paternal grandfathers are the Mud people.

As a child, she was born and raised on the Navajo Reservation. Charlotta has worked as a Reading Interventionist for Blanding Elementary. She also taught full-time as a Heritage Language teacher at Albert R. Lyman Middle School and San Juan High School in Blanding, Utah. Currently, she is working as a full-time Navajo translator. She enjoys teaching the Navajo language, culture, history, government, and the traditions of her Diné people.

Charlotta Lacy